DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3, 9-11, 17-18, 20, 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jenness et al. (US Pat. 5,373,300).

Regarding claims 1-3, 9-11, 17-18, 20, 26, Jenness et al disclose a monitoring device 16 comprising: a housing 12; a channel 38 disposed in the housing 12; a sensing device movable relative to the housing; and a cable 21, 30 having one end secured relative to the housing 12 and another end secured to the sensing device, a portion of the cable 21, 30 being removably disposed in and removably secured by the channel 38 for temporarily storing the cable 21, 30, a display screen 18 disposed in the housing 12, the channel 38 being disposed around at least a portion of a perimeter of the display screen 18 wherein the channel 38 is disposed around three sides of the perimeter of the display screen 18.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4-8, 12-16, 19, 21-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jenness et al. (US Pat. 5,373,300) in view of Doherty et al (US Pat. 6,567,277).

4. Regarding claims 4-8, 12-16, 19, 21-25, Jenness et al disclose all the subject matter of the claimed invention except for the cable has a relaxed outside diameter and a stretched outside diameter, the relaxed outside diameter being greater than a width of the channel and the stretched outside diameter being less than the width of the channel wherein the cable is coiled wherein the cable is received in the channel in press-fit fashion wherein the cable includes a resilient material forming an outer surface thereon, the resilient material being compressed by a side of the channel to secure the cable within the channel. A detent formed on a side of the channel, the detent releasably retaining the cable in the channel. However Doherty et al disclose cable has a relaxed outside diameter and a stretched outside diameter, the relaxed outside diameter being greater than a width of the channel and the stretched outside diameter being less than the width of the channel wherein the cable is coiled wherein the cable 16 is received in the channel 26 in press-fit fashion wherein in the cable 16 includes a resilient material forming an outer surface thereon, the resilient material being compressed by a side of the channel 26 to secure the cable 16 within the channel 26. A detent formed on a side of the channel 26, the detent releasably retaining the cable 16 in the channel 26 (see Doherty et al's figure 6). Therefore, it would be obvious to one of ordinary skill to modify cable has a relaxed outside diameter and a stretched outside diameter, the channel in press-fit fashion, and the cable includes a resilient material forming an outer surface thereon, the resilient material being compressed by a side of the channel to secure the cable within the channel. A detent formed on a side of the channel of Doherty et al into Jenness' device in order to wrap around housing with the cable.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 27-31 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art fails to show that a second channel disposed in the top wall, the cable being removably disposed in the second channel.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Noguchi et al (US Pat. 6,646,612) teach non-directivity antenna for wireless LAN.
